JEROME PARK RACE TRACK, Oct. 6 .- Racing in or shine has its drawbacks, as nearly everyclse, but when attended by a ratiway sal-up it is not altogether enjoyable; at least, one who started for Jerome Park on the first sial did not think so.

The branch track from the Harlem Railroad to ome Park is a stiff piece of up-grade work, and th heavy trains it is customary to give them a th up with an engine from behind.

To-day the engineer of the pusher did not calcue that the train in front was standing still, due the fact that a coupling had broken, leaving the first half to go on, and the result was a smart collision in which the rear platform of the car was ashed, as was the front of the engine, causing a ss of probably $500. Fortunately no one was

There was considerable delay, and it was nearly se for the racing to begin as the crowd began to rrive. Of course the track was very deep in mud water, and the attendance, except of the regu ars, is very limited, so that it could not well be a fitable day either for the Jockey Club or the kmakers, who, having paid for their stand, will ve to grin and bear it.

As to the racing, it suffered some from the rain. ough it began with a spirited contest for the mpagne Stakes, for which Champagne Charlie a trifle the favorite over the Mimi filly, with op a good third choice.

The lads fought for a stake of $200 and a purse of $100 subscribed by the spectators. Skintight gloves were used, and Queensberry rules governed the contest.

At the call of time Brandly was the first to lead, landing his right full on the face. Perry responded by knocking him down with a right-handed pinch on the side of the body. Both men drew blood in this round, and the fight went on most viciously from that time. Perry's nose was smashed in the sixth round, and his left arm gave out in the tenth, but he kept up pluckily for two rounds more, when the fight was broken up as stated,

To-Morrow Night.

For Six Days They Will Glide Around Madison Square Garden.

How the Rowing Tricycle Works-Prizes Aggregating $10,000,

A decided novelty in the amusement and athletic worlds will be introduced for the first time on this side of the Atlantic, at Madison Square Garden, at midnight tomorrow. Then will commence a great sixlay's rowing match.

The peculiar and novel part of this rowingmatch is that it will not be rowed on water and that neither oars nor shells will be introduced.

In their stead the race will be on the newly invented roadsculler, or in other words, a and-rowing tricycle.

Twelve champion oarsmen, all of whom have world-wide reputations, will compete for supremacy and a share of the $10,000 which is offered in prizes.

These cash prizes are larger than any ever competed for in a rowing tournament, and the management promises a bona fide contest.
The start will be made at 12 o'clock to-morrow night, and the men will row for six hours. Thereafter they will be on the track from 2 to 12 p. m. until midnight of Saturday next, when the prizes will be awarded to the six men who have made the greatest distances.

The first man will get $1,500, the second $1,250, the third $900, the fourth $600, the fifth $450, the sixth $300.
Besides these prizes, $250 will be awarded each day to the oarsman making the most each day to the oarsman making the most miles.

Along with these are eight special prizes to be distributed as follows:

The first four making 800 will each receive $250; the first three making 900 miles will get $500 apiece, and the first one to make 1,000 miles will receive $1,000, or $1 for each mile be makes.

miles will receive $1,000, or $1 for each mile makes.

The rowing tricycle is propelled exactly as a single shell is rowed, it also having a sliding seat. The only exception is that the oarsman faces ahead. The machine is capable of covering twenty miles per hour on a straight road. Eight laps will constitute a mile, and from sixteen to eighteen miles per hour have been made by some of the men while in practice there.

The present is the first race on the road-sculler in this country. In England these tournaments are all the rage and attract great attention. The last one held there ended on the 13th of February. It was a six days contest and took place in the London Aquarium. Wallace Ross was the winner.

He averaged twelve miles an hour.

This mode of racing is, to say the least, very daugerous, and should one of the wires which run to the wheels break, the oarsman would, if he got off with broken bones alone, be lucky.

The same rules that govern horse races would, if he got off with broken bones alone, be lucky.

The same rules that govern horse races have been adopted. The outside track will be twenty feet in width, and this will be divided into four other tracks. Each man must keep his track and only take the pole when there is a clear space. If one fouls another he will be fined from one to four laps, and if he should do so by design he will be fined from four to eight laps.

The men will start in four rows of three each.

Following are the names and numbers in the race of those who will start, together with their pedigrees in brief:

Col. Murphy May Be Put Up for Sheriff.

The County Democracy County Convention was called for 2 o'clock this afternoon in the large hall of Cooper Institute, and long before that hour the faithful followers of that organization began to assemble. As soon as a district leader arrived he vent upstairs and entered room 24.

At 1 o'clock Judge Power, ex-Mayor Gooper, Col. Murphy, Judges O'Reilly and Ford, ex-County Clerk Keenan, James J. Kelso, ex-Warden Walsh and the other leaders began a conference.

It insted until 3 o'clock, and when the leaders came out the announcement was made that the Convention would renominate, or as it was termed, indorse Mayor Hewitt for re-nomination, and that the Convention would then take a recess until Tuesday evening to complete the ticket.

Mr. Hewitt will doubtless be renominated by acclamation. The nominating speeches will be made by W. W. Niles, Nelson J. Waterbury and Gen.

O'Beirne. The Convention, after adopting resolutions of the usual conventional character, will take a recess until Tuesday evening.

The nomination of Sheriff Hugh J. Grant for Mayor has enthused his friends.

They say that Commissioner Croker would not have favored his nomination unless he was convinced that Grant could be elected.

They make this argument on the ground of the close personal and political friendship which is known to exist between the Commissioner and the Sheriff.

The theory is advanced that Commissioner Croker would not have favored Grant becoming the standard bearer in the contest if he had any thought that he would be defeated.

For months Sheriff Grant has repeatedly said that he was not a candidate for the Mayoralty nomination and would only secept a nomination in the event of the organization demanding his acceptance.

They took the position that the County Democrats would nominate Mayor Hewitt were pledged to him and would not budge from him: that an adjournment would be mere child's play and that Tammany Hall would be "strung along" and then "dumped."

Jim Mutrie Talks Learnedly To His Troop of Glants.

SEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. Polo Grounds, Oct. 6.—There was not one spectator at the Polo Grounds to-day. The grounds resented a swamp-like appearance. Beyond the faint outlines of a diamond and the memory of by-gone games, nothing betokened that baseball was ever played here, except, perhaps, an empty pail, whose contents once made foul lines.

The Glants, however, were assembled in their club-house just outside the grounds. They had een there pretty much all day and had passed the time, as some one expressed it, in listening to Jim Mutrie preach. Not that Jim was blowing up the Matrie preach. Not that Jim was blowing up the boys. He was simply advancing a few of his pet theories on the science of the National game.

Manager Philips, remembering the game he forested here this season through non-attendance, put in an appearance shortly before 3 o'clock and neard Manager Mutrie say. 'No game," and after teiling what hard linck he was having on account of the injuries sustained by Beckley, Sunday, Dunlap and a half dozen others, went back to his botch.

Soon afterwards the Giants themselves, one after another left for teen different boarding-places, and the club-house was as deserted as the grounds.

Anson's Cuicage Babes Falled to Appear. WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. - The Chicago nine scheduled to play here with the Washing-ton Club to-day not put in an appear-ance on the ball grounds, and the game was de-clared forfeited to Washington by a score of 9 to 0. LATRE.—Washington with was her claim of forfeiture. The game will proceed.

In the discussion that followed the following districts were said to favor the nomination of Judge Dugro, although it was well understood that there was a strong possibility of his refusing the nomination if there was any other candidate who could be prevailed upon to accept it: First District, Second, Third, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth ON THE DIAMOND. The Pittaburgs play here to-day. They are in a sadly crippled condition.

Gaffney and Kelly will be the umpires in the world's championship series. Tim Keefewill open a store in this city during the winter. Sporting goods will be the line. The subscription sale of tickets for the Glants' benefit is progressing rapidly. The price of seats will soon reacu $2.

Silver Flint says those tinkling silver bells which marked the Gianta' progress yenterday were the very worst kind of a hoo-doo.

The discomfiture depicted on Anson's face after yesterday's disastrous seventh caused Titcomb to laugh so heartily that he nearly forgot how to pitch.

It wasn't necessary for Buck to do much ested-ing in the last series after all. The game he did catch on Wednesday will live in the memory of cranks forever. The County Democracy had made up their minds to renominate Mayor Hewitt, and a voke of oxen could not budge them. They might fool the National Committee, but they could not fool ranks forever.

It is reported that Von der Ahe has a deeprooted conviction that the Glants will take to some when they meet the Browns. Mutris suggests that Von der Ahe take gas before that conviction is yanked out by the roots.

Amon & Co. left town early this morning for Washington. As he stepped aboard the train the famous captain yelled out: "Look out for me next year! I shall have the strongest and the best cuts in America." ciub in America.

Mike Kelly has been excused from further work this season by the Boston management, and Som-mers, the new catcher, was injured so bady in yesterday's game that he will be unable to catch again this year. Who'll catch in Boston, anyway? Manager Mutric is busy reading congratualatory telegrams and letters. The first of the kind to rach hum was a telegram from THE EVENIME WORLD, and James received it just three-quarters of a minute after the championship had been decided.
